THE ROYAL PAVILION

A unique venue, in a truly unique location
INTRODUCTION

Southend-on-Sea Pier is now home to The Royal Pavilion, which opened it’s doors on the 19th July 2012 as the most unique events and conference venue in town. It was officially named in a unique ceremony conducted by His Royal Highness the Duke of Kent, on Tuesday 16th July 2013.

Only an hour from London and on Southend’s most iconic landmark, the 350sqm Pavilion, which was designed by White Arkitekter, offers flexible and versatile space designed to meet the needs of individuals and companies planning events of any size.

From small meetings to weddings, parties or conferences for 150, The Royal Pavilion is the perfect choice.

Nowhere in Southend will you find a venue that boasts all the facilities you could need, as well as having fantastic, unrivalled views of the Thames Estuary from its covered terrace.
